Todd Crider Speaks at the Fundación Barra Mexicana Conference on Pro Bono and the Rule of Law in Mexico

03.28.22

Todd Crider, Head of the Firm's Latin America Practice, delivered the keynote at an event of the Fundación Barra Mexicana entitled "Pro Bono and the Rule of Law in Mexico: 2022," on March 9 in Mexico City. The Fundación Barra Mexicana, an instrument of the Mexican Bar Association, in response to the social problems and unmet legal needs, was founded in October 2000 as a foundation aimed at providing guidance and free legal support to the most vulnerable sectors of Mexican society. The Foundation, initially called Asociación de Servicios Legales A.C., today bears the name Fundación Barra Mexicana, A.C. (FBM). Todd's remarks focused on understanding the imperative of rule of law to economic development and democracy and looked at key indicators as to the health of rule of law.
