David Blass to Speak on D.C. Bar Panel Regarding Regulatory Developments Impacting Private Fund Advisers

03.31.22

Partner David Blass will speak on a panel for a D.C. Bar webinar titled “SEC Regulatory Developments Impacting Private Fund Advisers” on March 31, which will address several recent regulatory developments impacting private fund advisers, including the private fund adviser package of proposals. The panel will include a member of the SEC team who worked on the rule proposals and attorneys representing both the industry and law firm perspectives. The panel is sponsored by the D.C. Bar’s Investment Management and Broker-Dealer Regulation Committee and organized by Partner Chris Healey, who serves as Co-Chair of the Committee.
