

Simpson Thacher Attorneys Author Article in Thomson Reuters Westlaw on Recent DOJ Revisions

10.04.22

Litigation Partners Martin Bell, Jeffrey Knox, Marc Berger and Nicholas Goldin authored an article in Thomson Reuters Westlaw titled, “Deputy attorney general announces revisions to criminal enforcement policies for corporate entities,” which discusses the revisions to the DOJ’s enforcement policies related to corporations announced by Deputy Attorney General Lisa Monaco on September 15, 2022. The article details how the revisions, which follow a top-to-bottom review initiated by Monaco through the DOJ’s Corporate Crime Advisory Group, constitute a notable reworking of certain policies that govern corporate cooperation and address five key areas: voluntary self-disclosure, individual accountability, adjustments to recidivism approach, monitoring the monitors and culture, compensation and texting.

To read the full article, please click here.

Authors and Contacts

Martin Bell

Partner

martin.bell@stblaw.com

+1-212-455-2542

Marc Berger

Partner

marc.berger@stblaw.com

+1-212-455-2197

Jeffrey Knox

Partner

jeffrey.knox@stblaw.com

+1-202-636-5532

Nicholas Goldin

Partner

ngoldin@stblaw.com

+1-212-455-3685

