Lexology Getting The Deal Through: Insurance Litigation 2023

03.03.23

Bryce Friedman and Karen Cestari served as Contributing Editors of the 2023 edition of Lexology Getting the Deal Through: Insurance Litigation and also authored the publication's United States chapter. The chapter, which was formatted as a Q&A, highlighted areas including preliminary and jurisdictional considerations in insurance litigation in the U.S., the interpretation of insurance contracts and notice to insurance companies and standard commercial general liability policies, among other topics. It additionally summarized insurance litigation trends and shared an outlook for the year.
