As a Partner in the Firm's New York office, Laurence Moss focuses his practice on executive compensation and employee benefits law. Larry counsels companies on the employee benefits aspects of mergers and acquisitions, with an emphasis on leveraged buyout transactions. He regularly advises private equity firms, public companies and senior executives on the design, negotiation and implementation of employment and separation arrangements, equity-based compensation plans and non-qualified retirement programs (including deferred compensation arrangements). Larry frequently writes on employee benefits issues, including pension and executive compensation matters. In 2018, Larry was named a “BTI Client Service All-Star,”
